

Dave Angus is President and founding partner of Legacy Alliance, a nationally recognized leadership and organization development consulting firm based in Louisville, Colorado. For over 20 years, Dave has provided leadership coaching and consulting services to senior executives across a wide range of industries. In his collaboration with Executives, he brings great passion and focus in assisting leaders to more effectively leverage their innate strengths and capabilities while at the same time, increasing their skills in core business competencies such as communications, innovation, problem solving, conflict resolution, risk taking and other important leadership behaviors.

Dave approaches coaching as a partner and collaborator and works with his clients to establish a learning environment that includes a strong foundation of trust, mutual understanding and respect, increased self awareness through strategic feedback processes, increased accountability and clearly defined coaching objectives.

Over the past two decades, Dave has successfully consulted to organizations in the areas of leadership and team development. He has facilitated hundreds of team building and conflict resolution sessions for all levels of the organization and has provided numerous workshops and presentations designed to improve leadership and organizational effectiveness.

Dave currently coaches key executives and organizational leaders who successfully achieve billion dollar revenue targets and lead extremely sophisticated workforces. He is actively involved in assisting leaders and leadership teams successfully achieve high performance goals while they in turn guide their respective organizations through the significant challenges associated with rapidly changing economic environments, steadily increasing stake holder expectations, rapid growth, mergers and acquisition challenges, large-scale change and other business strategies. Dave also has years of experience working with governing boards and other key stakeholder groups within organizations.

Over the course of his career, Mr. Angus has had the privilege of working closely with many of today's leading business thought leaders such as Warren Bennis, Peter Senge, Terry Deal, Timothy Gallwey, Rosabeth Moss Kanter, Peter Koestenbaum, and others.

Dave holds a Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Communication from Brigham Young University and a Master of Science in Organization Development from Pepperdine University.
